LOT 13445

Series

People and activities of the National Woman's Party 1884-ca. 1965

Includes primarily portraits of National Woman's Party (NWP) officers; suffragists; and other women in politics and business; NWP meetings and formal gatherings, including Susan B. Anthony celebrations; the NWP Detroit Convention of 1940; women delegates at United Nations sessions dealing with women's rights issues. Also includes the organization's headquarters in Washington, D.C. (Sewall-Belmont House); views of suffragist Alva Belmont's home at Port Washington, Long Island; a few photographs of NWP founder, Alice Paul's home in Vermont. Also postcards depicting women's suffrage slogans, a 1913 suffrage parade in Washington, D.C., and President Wilson's inauguration and parade at Washington, D.C.

Organized roughly by subject.

Printing plates

Four printing plates are in the Supplementary Archives (Suppl. Archiv.) filing series. Two depict a woman on a horse and the slogan "forward into light"; a third reproduces the "jailhouse door" commemorative pin designed by Alice Paul in 1917; the fourth is a half-tone plate depicting a portrait of an unidentified woman.
